GROUP 2

I am a generous person, often giving or loaning money to others

I like calculating the pros and cons of taking a financial risk

I often find myself coming to the aide of others, financially and otherwise

I am willing to risk money for a potentially large financial gain

Despite my best efforts, something often happens to complicate my life financially

I secretly feel clever or even superior to others about money

I find myself waiting to be paid because of someone else's needs or reasons

I like gaining the upper hand with money

TOTAL COLUMN 1

TOTAL COLUMN 2

I love attracting money in magical or unconventional ways

I love spending money on things that enhance my image or give me a lot of visibility

Making money isn't as important to me as creating a movement, making an impact or being involved in social change

Always getting the best or being first — VIP seating, flying first class, getting the latest gadgets — is important to me

I feel a love/hate relationship with money

I project an image of wealth and success that often doesn't match my bank account balance

I believe it's greedy or not spiritual to focus too much on money

It's easier for me to spend money on things like jewelry, restaurants, vacations, etc. than it is for me to save money

TOTAL COLUMN 3

TOTAL COLUMN 4

1 = Strongly Disagree • 2 = Disagree • 3 = Neutral • 4 = Agree • 5 = Strongly Agree

GROUP 3

GROUP 4

I find it easy not to think about money

I love saving money

I often find myself being financially supported by others

I find it difficult, even painful to spend money

I often avoid facing money situations, hoping they will improve on their own

I make sure to always live below my means

I like it best when someone else takes care of money details for me

I find it difficult to trust others when investing my money

TOTAL COLUMN 6

I love frequently spending money on things because I feel I deserve them

I never feel there's enough money and continue to create ways of making more

I don't see the point in saving money, as life is to be enjoyed now

I am reluctant to diversify or complicate my investments

Money itself doesn't feel that serious to me

I forgo spending money on things now, in order to invest in my future

I love having luxurious experiences or an abundance of items

I am highly ambitious and see money as a measurement of my success

TOTAL COLUMN 7

TOTAL COLUMN 8

1 = Strongly Disagree • 2 = Disagree • 3 = Neutral • 4 = Agree • 5 = Strongly Agree

GROUP 5

GROUP 6

Being of service is more motivating than having more money

At my most extreme the financial risks I take can put me in financial jeopardy

I can feel resentful that I don't make more for all that I do

I am comfortable with complex financial transactions

If someone needs my time I'll often give it, even if I'm not being paid

Making money is a game I play to win

At my most extreme I give to the point of enabling or creating debt or putting myself at financial risk

Others can view my financial decisions as risky

TOTAL COLUMN 10

I believe people with money have unfair advantages in the world

At my most extreme I create debt and spend lavishly in order to get attention and recognition

I am distrustful of people who focus too much on money

I am confident with day to day money management even though I may have debt or find it difficult to save or invest money

Any investing I do needs to be with people or companies whose ideals match my own

I love to stand out in the crowd and will use my purchases to help make that happen

At my most extreme I am financially supported by someone (or something else, like a business, a spouse, a parent or a credit card) yet feel resentment or that the situation is unfair

Being recognized for giving big to charities or social causes is important to me

TOTAL COLUMN 12

1 = Strongly Disagree • 2 = Disagree • 3 = Neutral • 4 = Agree • 5 = Strongly Agree

GROUP 7

GROUP 8

I wish I didn't have to think about making or managing money

At my most extreme I limit my opportunities because of my fear of spending or investing money

I have faith that somehow, things will always work out financially

I love buying things on sale, closeouts or used items so I know I'm getting the best deal

I don't feel a strong connection to money

Saving a lot of money makes me feel safe and protected

At my most extreme I feel overwhelmed or even helpless about money and wish the need for money would just disappear

I feel a strong emotional connection to money

TOTAL COLUMN 13

TOTAL COLUMN 14

I believe in living the good life, no matter what it costs

At my most extreme I am never satisfied with how much money I have and drive myself relentlessly to create more

I figure since you can't take it with you, money is to be spent now

I am typically decisive regarding money and its management

My purchases make me feel better about myself

I believe I'll be happy when I have more money (even though what I have now is more than I've had before)

At my most extreme, I spend money impulsively

I fear losing control of or power over my money
